District Profile

Eastern High School (9-12) and Eastern Elementary (K-8) are located on one campus nestled between the rolling hills of southeastern Ohio. The district is a small rural school district that is located approximately 35 miles southeast of Athens. Eastern Elementary is a newly constructed building that opened in school year 1998-1999. Eastern High School went through extensive renovations during the same period and has four newly constructed classrooms that were completed in 2002. The district central administrative offices are located in the former Tuppens Plains Elementary that also houses Heart of the Valley Head Start .

The district is comprised mostly of residential and agricultural properties. Currently there is very little industrial property, but an industrial park development project headed by the Community Improvement Corporation is located within the district boundaries. Currently four businesses have occupied property in the industrial park. The district has successfully managed costs and is financially sound.

The district strives to achieve academic success. While Ohio Department of Education has not released a District Grade for the 2014-2015 District Report Card, our academic success in the individual areas has grown. Eastern is the top achieving district within our Tri-Valley Conference, meeting 27 out of 34 indicators.

The community is well vested in the district. Eastern Elementary is home to a combined district/public library. This area of the school is a hub for the community. The community has rallied behind the students by participating in volunteer programs and supporting our successful extra-curricular programs. Eastern is the proud home of the 2014 Division IV Girls' State Basketball Champions. You will find that "Eagle Pride" displayed throughout both school buildings and the many small communities.
