THE SCHOOL DISTRICT

The Adams County/Ohio Valley School District was created in 1970 after the consolidation of Adams County's four local school districts into one. The present district encompasses 487 square miles, being the second largest geographical school district in the State of Ohio. The district includes seven school buildings—three high schools, a career and technical center, and three elementary schools—along with an Administration Office and bus garage. The construction of four new high school buildings and renovation of the previous facilities was completed in 1997. A bond issue was passed in 2006 to build three new elementary schools and renovate the existing high schools and CTC. The new elementary buildings were opened to students in January 2010.

Special programs for handicapped, preschool, all-day every-day kindergarten, extended enrichment program, and writing processes are in place. A vital element of the secondary program is the career and technical center that attracts approximately forty-five percent of all the juniors and seniors.

THE SCHOOL COMMUNITY

The Adams County/Ohio Valley School District is located in the heart of Ohio's Appalachian country. An area of timeless enchantment and homespun hospitality flourishes in the midst of some of the most spectacular scenic beauty to be found in Ohio. The panoramic vistas testify to a rural way of life still thriving. The region's hills, lakes, and rivers feature a variety of outdoor adventures. Beautiful area state parks and national forests offer swimming, canoeing, fishing, horseback riding, camping, and golfing.

Adams County (population 27,500) comes alive in its small towns and villages, fairs, and festivals, living history centers, and Amish country. Residents of this area believe strongly in family values and a work ethic that keeps them close to the land. There is a new "spirit" of restructuring in place, evidenced by our modern school facilities, new regional medical center, and new cancer treatment center. From the five board members to the newly-rekindled community interest, this is a school system readying itself for the twenty-first century.
